

Master of Musculoskeletal Physical Therapy Program

Mission:

The Master of Musculoskeletal Physical Therapy Program is committed to qualify competitive graduates to produce scientific research for society development.

Goals:

The Master of Musculoskeletal Physical Therapy Program aims to provide graduates with:

1. The ability to evaluate patients, design and implement a distinct physical therapy program.
2. The competence in communication, interpersonal and psychomotor skills, and continuous learning abilities to keep up with the development of physical therapy profession.
3. The ability to conduct distinct research work with contribution to community services.
4. The ability to participate in developing social awareness of the profession.